Two Kings

The Two Kings are coming to your class!

Good King and Bad King puppets – a simple, joyful tool to teach children to choose good, every day.

Why does it work?

- ✓ Instead of "Don't do that!" you ask: "Who are you listening to?"
- ✓ Children understand on their own – no scolding
- ✓ Fits every moment: clean-up, lines, sharing, arguments
- ✓ Shy children speak through the puppet
- ✓ Works all year – holidays too

What do you get?

- ✓ A pair of quality puppets – the Good King and the Bad King
- ✓ A printable kit: weekly plan, situation cards, posters, charts, a game, certificates and a letter to parents
- ✓ A guide: how to use the puppets all year round

Where does it come from?

The Two Kings series by Rabbi Fishel Jacobs grew out of a stage play performed for more than 15 years in schools, summer camps and community centers. It is based on the parable of the two kings battling over a "little city" – our heart.
