A Week with the Two Kings

A ready plan – 15–20 minutes a day

Day 1	Meet the Two Kings Tell the story with the puppets. Each child says hello to each king. Hang up the poster "Everyone has Two Kings". 📎 Puppets, poster, coloring page
Day 2	Who said it? Play "Who said it?" out loud: the teacher says a sentence and the children point to the right king. Then do the worksheet. 📎 "Who said it?" page, "Who am I listening to?" card
Day 3	Circle role-play Pull a situation card. Two children hold the puppets and act it out, and the class suggests an idea that helps the Good King win. 📎 Situation cards, puppets
Day 4	My idea Read David's dilemma again. Each child draws their own idea and tells the class. Make crowns and stick puppets. 📎 "What would you do?", paper crown, stick puppets
Day 5	Celebrate the Good King Play "The Road to the Palace" in groups. Hand out certificates, take photos with the puppets, and send a letter home to parents. 📎 Board game, certificates, letter to parents

After the week: the puppets stay in the Two Kings corner. Hold up the "Who am I listening to?" card instead of scolding, color the class crown, and choose a "Good King of the Day" every day.
