Dear Parents,

This week our class met two special guests: the Good King and the Bad King from the Two Kings book series. We heard the story of David, whose Mommy asked him to watch his little sister while his friends were calling him to play outside, and we learned that everyone has two kings inside, and we can choose which one to listen to.

In class we practice three steps: Stop – Think – Choose. We would be so happy if you continued the conversation at home. A short page for a family talk is attached below.

Warmly,

Teacher _____

Talking at Home about the Two Kings

1. What did the Bad King say to David? And what did the Good King say?
2. Tell me about one time today when you listened to the Good King.
3. What will we do tomorrow to help the Good King win?
